

Rzeczpospolita: They fight corruption to achieve good results:

Journalists of Rzeczpospolita read a report of the Ministry of Interior and Administration. In this report the police reveals over 95% crimes of corruption. Rzeczpospolita, which cites "The report on the state of safety in 2008", reveals that last year the police launched nearly 6,000 investigations in connection with crimes of corruption, whereas Central Anticorruption Bureau (CBA) launched 280 investigations (4,45% of the total number).

This article highlights another function and range of activities of the police and secret service. It also highlights the lack of appropriate statistics kept by CBA.

We encourage you to read the whole article. The whole article can be found on the website: <http://www.rp.pl/artykul/409583.html>